Governance Council, which has limited participation from smaller communities or individuals, the Community Committee is expected to make a significant contribution to building a more empowered and autonomous Kaia ecosystem.

Community Committees are organized into two main groups: Chairman and Members. Chairman applicants are responsible for organizing the members of the committees they want to join, and publicly submit their proposals, including ideas and budgets, to the forum. After a first round of review, the finalized proposal will be put to a vote by the Governance Council. If passed, the Community Council will begin operating under that proposal for a period of one year, with the official launch of Kaia Chain, which may vary depending on the voted proposal content. More details can be found in the full proposal.

As we aim to build the largest governance chain in Asia, the Kaia ecosystem needs more ideas and participation from the community. We look forward to

- A Chairman candidate submitting a proposal must be an entity with at least two years of experience launching and running a community-related business or project in the blockchain market, including designing and running a DAO organization.

- However, the members that make up a Chairman candidate can be individuals.

- How is the budget for the program allocated?

- The Community Committee's operating budget will be allocated from the Kaia Ecosystem Fund (KEF). Chairman candidates must provide the required one-year operating budget for each line item in their proposal, and the amount is not limited.

- However, the proposal should specifically include items such as community committee management (development of operational tools, operational incentives, etc.), ecosystem investments, marketing, grants, and liquidity provision.

- How do I submit a committee plan?
